Editor's Message

In compiling this living documentary, I wish to acknowledge the cooperation I have received from the Journal Committee, Ad Campaign Committee and the Board of Executives. However I am most thankful to my co-editors, Brother Jerry Lewkowicz and Brother Ludwig J. Crane, who unselfishly devoted their time and energy towards making my task less burdensome.

I am exceedingly grateful to our friends and advertisers who have so generously aided us in making this, 30th anniversary Journal possible.

It is with sincerest pleasure that I, in the name of the Journal Committee, greet all the brothers, their families and guests at this most joyous occasion—our 30th anniversary.

Journal Committee

MORRIS SALZER
Chairman

President's Message

May I take this opportunity to humbly thank all the members of the Independent Lodger Young Men for the privilege of serving as your president, particularly during such a momentous year as this, when we celebrate our 30th anniversary.

When I accepted the presidency for the second consecutive term, I was mindful that such an occasion has a double purpose.

One was to commemorate 30 years of achievement, while the other was to inaugurate a new era in fostering brotherly love and rendering even greater assistance to those who are less fortunate. Leafing through the history of our society, one is impressed by the enduring quality of friendship, between the brethren by their generousities, and their self-imposed obligations which were fulfilled with devotion and dignity.

Now we are setting out on a new course not merely to continue what we have done, but to intensify our effort. While we glory in the deeds of the past, it is we consider it but an aspiration for the future.

May this be the theme of our 30th anniversary.

LUDWIG J. CRANE,
President.
